YOKAI TALES: FOX

Our team is working on Yokai Tales: Fox, a 3rd person action-adventure game with base building elements. We develop and create everything in-house, and have gathered an exquisite group of young professionals with a broad range of expertises, ranging from 3D and 2D art, tech art, animation, programming, game and level design and sound design.

GHOST SHIP GAMES

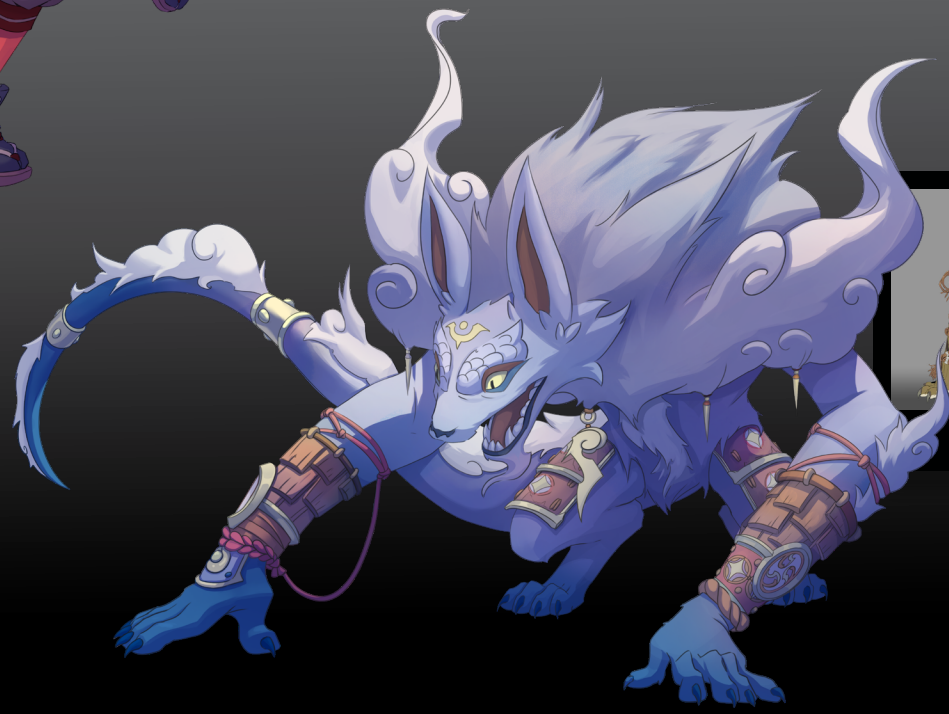

Before the 1.0 launch of Deep Rock Galactic, we had the pleasure to work on an alternative resource gathering activity, based around some of the critters you can find deep inside the mines. We worked on design and implementation to bring many concepts to life as part of a larger feature set. We setup a behavioural system, created a custom map, worked with UX and UI and constructed the overall atmosphere.

Silkroad Studios

Founded in 2021 in Copenhagen, Denmark with a vision to create a new way to make systemic action games with unique aesthetic appeal.

Silkroad Studios is an indie development studio based in Copenhagen, Denmark. Founded by Maximos, Mia and Stella in 2021, to create a new type of gaming studio that focuses on agility in development, lean production and forward thinking in business strategy and market fit.

Silkroad cultivates dynamic and dedicated teams by strategically assembling a formidable blend of both youthful innovation and seasoned expertise drawn from a global talent pool. Leveraging agile methodologies and embracing remote work practices, we harness the full spectrum of talent, customizing our teams to suit the unique demands of each project. Our holistic approach ensures the formation of cohesive teams capable of consistently delivering top-tier games of exceptional quality.

The Team

The Silkroad team comprises of a dynamic group of driven, young professionals fueled by a collective passion and boundless energy. They collaborate under the expert mentorship of seasoned leaders, each excelling in their respective domains, to craft exceptional gaming experiences. And just to further that claim, our team members have worked and trained with some of the biggest companies in the industry - Microsoft, Tencent, Riot Games & Ghost Ship Games.

The knowledge gained from having experience with these companies has encouraged us to start our outsourcing journey. So far our clients have been very satisfied with our deliverables and our work ethic, which has been shown through our continuous collaboration.
